Jorge Cereceda

Lover of good food and sound.

His relationship with music goes from childhood with the piano and the flute.

In the year 2000 reconnects with tribal music and begins his immersion in ancient Peruvian instruments and traditional medicine rituals.

Exploration that inspires the vibration and shamanic songs that he shares in his sound offerings. He currently lives in the Sacred Valley of the Incas. Cusco. Peru.

Promoting health, well-being and regeneration of ecosystems.

David Kennet

David Kennet is NYC based musician, voice coach, massage therapist and holistic nutritionist, David brings multiple skills to his intuitive sound therapy. Having cured himself of chronic childhood asthma through singing, his performance debut came at age 21 at New York City's Lincoln Center, kick-starting a global 25-year career that recently included appearances on MTV's "The Hills" and NBC's "The Today Show". David is passionate about sound therapy's transformative benefits, from better sleep and trauma release to improved confidence, focus, and clarity. He is a protege of the late Canadian metaphysician Kenneth G. Mills and has also studied with sound healers Tom Kenyon and Jonathan Goldman.

David has lectured on the practical application of sound therapy at the University of Santa Barbara, California, Antioch University, and Bastyr University and has offered sound meditations for the U.S. Air Force and the Four Seasons Hotels in the Maldives.
